1. Prologue

This story is part of a series of children's stories with the main title "Professions". Its purpose is to introduce children to career orientation, while combining knowledge with humor and the funny side of life, so that the story remains interesting.

In all the stories, the main hero is Charalampos. His friends Lefteris and Panagiotis also take part, and very often they change profession according to Charalampos' profession.

I was inspired to create Charalampos and his friends while playing with my grandson Marios.

In every story there is a glossary of unfamiliar words, so that young children can understand the difficult words. The unfamiliar words are marked with an asterisk in the text, and their explanations are given below, again with an asterisk.

2. Charalampos the Policeman

Charalampos has a very important profession. He is a policeman.

Every time Charalampos works, he kisses his two children, Giorgos and Eleni, holding them tightly in his arms. He says goodbye to his wife Sofia and starts for the police station of the town where he serves, to begin his shift.

Charalampos and his colleagues who work in the police force work in shifts. This means that they may also work on Saturdays, Sundays, Christmas and Easter.

Shift (*) is work that is done by changing the people who work at different times, such as morning, afternoon and night, for example in factories, hospitals, the navy, the army, the police and other services.

The main duty of a policeman is to care for the safety of people.

Charalampos has been assigned by his service to patrol neighborhoods together with a colleague, Panagiotis, with whom he has become friends after so many years of serving together.

Safety (*) is the condition in which we feel safe, without fear of a danger that may cause injury or harm to our health.

Patrol (*) is the frequent passing through an area at certain times for a specific purpose, in this story for the safety of the neighborhood.
